Visiting Artists

The EMA program offers three visiting artist positions during each academic year. Each artist joins EMA for ten weeks, with one artist per quarter. Artists are offered the use of EMA's facilities, provided a guest pass for use of Stanford's libraries, and given a modest stipend of $500 for materials. We are not able to offer housing for out-of-town artists at this time. Artists will give a lecture at the end of their visit to the Stanford art community.

Applications for the EMA Visiting Artist are now being accepted for the academic year 2013-14. The deadline for applications is June 12th 2013. Applicants will be notified by July 30th 2013.

Steve Rood investigates photography in connection with emerging technologies; "My research seeks to expand notions of the photographic. I am particularly interested in how contemporary technologies and social contexts may enable new forms of photographic practice." He studied photography at the Royal Academy in Holland and his Masters at Auckland University of Technology, (New Zealand) with a focus on photography and digital media. He is currently a Senior Lecturer on the Bachelor of Media Design program at Media Design School (NZ).

project :

This work seeks to expand notions of the photographic and explore a transitional place between photography and video.

This project investigates Eadweard Muybridge's work by reassessing some assumptions around aspects of his work. Central to the work is the conviction that Muybridge's innovative Horse in Motion work in the 1870s not only provided photography's transition from still image to moving image; but also offers valuable, and as yet unutilised insights to photography's evolution to digital.

This re interpretation of the historical work seeks to create a deeper understanding of the underlying issues in the contemporary realm between still and moving image, and provide valuable and usable revelations for further investigations.
